SETTING ASIDE JUST one day each year to give thanks for our blessings certainly seems to be a miniscule gesture.

The sad part of it is that many of us don't even pause on Thanksgiving Day to give thanks.

Thanksgiving and Independence Day have truly basic American roots encrusted with traditions of which we all can be proud.

Unhappily in too many instances there is no time for reflection on the true meaning of the two exclusively American holidays.

One just means fireworks. The other turkey.

BUT ALL OF US CAN find something for which to be thankful.

Of course some may have to look around more than others.

Quite frankly it might take a bit of doing to count one's blessings after engaging in consistent and continuous bouts with adversity throughout the year.

Just being around to count, for example, could be classified as a blessing. Many are not.

Anyway, have a happy Thanksgiving.

IN THIS ISSUE, AS HAS been the case for the past 12 years or more, The Campbell Press publishes its own Thanksgiving spread, a pictorial presentation of the traditional grid classic that takes place on Thanksgiving Day...Los Gatos Wildcats versus the Campbell High Buccaneers.

For two years prior to 1958, The Press ran just the pictures of the individual Campbell High football players with a line underneath each one naming his sponsor, a Campbell merchant.

Then in 1958, pictures of the merchants were published alongside the player they were sponsoring. To make it a little more "footballish" the merchants donned football helmets for their pictures.

We reviewed the files this last week of the past Thanksgiving-football issues.

And, as always happens when we go through the bound copies of this newspaper of the last decade, we were startled by the changes that have occurred in this community in the brief span of 10 years ago.

For example:

In the 1960 spread there were 43 local business people pictured... Hold onto your seats....

Of those 43, only 13 are around town today!

And of the 39 merchants in the 1959 spread, only nine are in the same business locally today.

THREE LOCAL BUSI–ness people, however, hold some record for consistency.

Lowell Benson, of Benson's Campbell Cleaners; Rex Jeffers, of Jeffers Mens Wear and Tommy Blackmum, of Campbell Floral, have been in every spread since it was started.

In fact all three of them appear in today's spread just as they looked 10 years ago and in the same football headgear.

Even if those prehistoric helmets sort of date the guys who are wearing 'em, we doubt if they would care to update them with new pictures.

Those noseguards on the present-day gridiron chappeau, by the way, sort of camouflage the wearer so that age is irrelevant anyway.

But that is not so in the case, for example, of Tommy Blackmum.

He's right out there in the open, wearing what John Gregg of Valley Athletic termed a Red Grange job.

And that REALLY dates a guy.

THOSE OF US WITH bound newspaper files of past years at our disposal are really in a preferred position when it comes to discussing occurrences of the past.

Long ago we learned that people have short memories

County boosts overpass

That long-sought pedestrian overpass at Rincon Ave. moved a step closer to reality this week when the City Council was asked to approve an agreement drafted by the county that would set up the formula for the financing the project by the county, Campbell, San Jose and the elementary school district.

The City Council is scheduled to act on the matter at the council meeting tonight.

Inasmuch as city officials were instrumental in suggesting the four-way deal, it is expected that the City Council will give speedy approval to the county's request.

The pedestrian overpass is estimated to cost about $100,000.

Under the proposal, the county will foot the bill for $50,000; the City of Campbell will pick up the tab for $25,000 and the City of San Jose and the Campbell Union School District will pay $12,500 each.

The letter asking for the City of Campbell's approval of the proposed agreement was

Senior citizens protest building

Highlighting the City Council meeting tonight (Monday) will be action on an unique appeal by a senior citizen group of a Planning Commission ruling approving building plans for two warehouses on Gilman Ave.

Rarely has the commission's approval of building plans been appealed. But even more unusual is the fact that the appeal has been filed by a group not directly involved with the building itself.

The West Valley Senior Action Center in a letter signed by its president, Mrs. Irma Reese, submitted the appeal on the basis that the area in which the warehouses have been proposed has been rec-

C of C to name eight directors Friday, Nov. 29

Ballots in the annual election for new directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, now in the hands of the members, must be returned to the C of C office by Friday, Nov. 29 when they will be tallied, Ken Mantle, C of C president, reports.

Eight directors will be elected to the 15-member board for two-year terms from the 14 names that appear on the ballots as recommended by the nominating committee. Members may also write-in names.

The 14 nominated include: Bob Blonder, First Valley Bank; Jerry Arca, Pacific Telephone; Jim O'Brien, Bank of America; Tom Snowden, Snowden-Pencer Corp.; Al LaPlante, New York Life; Clair Wilson, real estate; Yas Kato, Kato Bros. Enterprises; Don Kennedy, Bank of America; Bill Oltmann, accountant; Bob Bullard, CPA; Norm Paul, Plaza Theatre; Jeanette Watson, civic leader; Miles Tully, Campbell Office Machines; Page Conner, The Valley Greeters.

Kennedy has served as a director and is presently second vice-president; Bullard, another incumbent director, is treasurer. Paul and Tully are also directors at the present time.

Old Campbell theater to go gas-light route

A new dimension in living will be added to the downtown Campbell scene about the first week in February. The old Campbell Theater, which last closed its doors in Feb. 1966, will be reopened by the Gas Light Theatre group, and the walls will resound with the cries of Bravo as the hero stalks across the stage and the audience cheers him on.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cupp, who head the Gas Light Theatre group now playing on South Monterey Road, have purchased the building located at 400 E. Campbell Ave., between the Campbell Rock Shop and Louanna Rachels' shop.

Cupp is enthusiastic about the possibilities in the old theatre, and is planning extensive remodeling to bring the building up to the fire code regulations and to adapt it to their special needs.

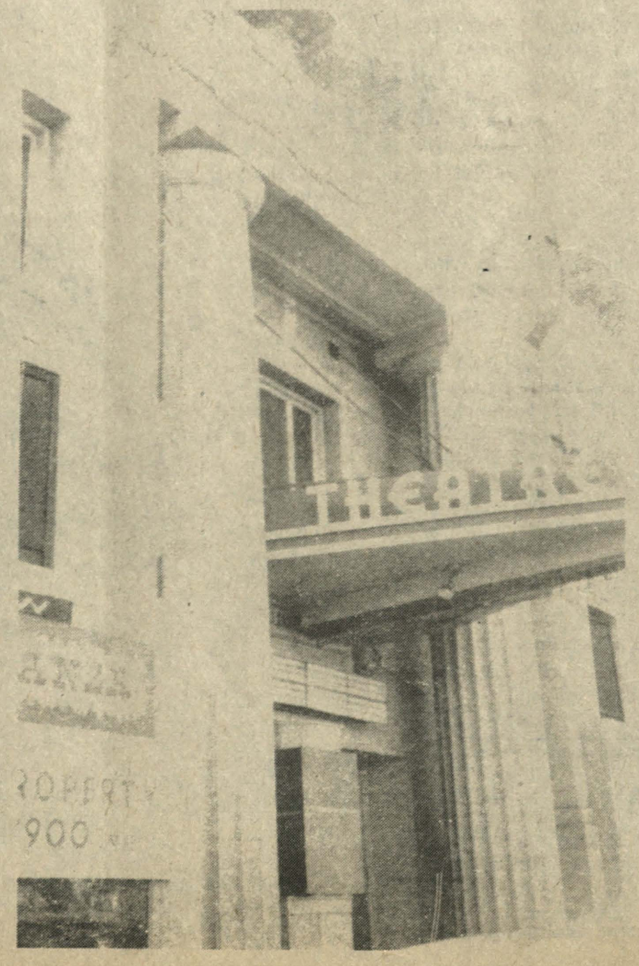
Part of the floor will be replaced, the electrical system brought up to code and pseudo gas lights installed, an emergency exit fixed, a hot water heater installed and dressing rooms back stage are only part of the remodeling planned.

According to Cupp the balcony will be closed to customer usage, and will instead be used for costume and set storage, thus cutting down the total number of seats to 170 from the 470 seats now installed. The seating arrangement will be expanded and 44" between each seat will leave room for an eight inch shelf table on which the patrons will be able to place "beer and popcorn". The under the balcony area will be enlarged and used as an inside lobby, decorated in 1890 style completed with velvet hangings, an antique mahogany bar dating from pre-prohibition days, and a rinky-dink piano. Cupp plans on using the present front lobby entrance but will tear down the show windows, scour the tile and marble entrance and paint up the front.

Cupp and his group of gas lighters have had many years of experience in the "melodrama" field and have currently been at the Monterey Road location for three years, where they produce their 100 year old plays every Friday and Saturday night. The family type shows encourage audience participation, and the Cupps are family people, having four children who are also active participants in the theatre group.

Mrs. Cupp has only recently "trod the boards", having been active in the costume and set making department. Cupp, in real life a personnel director for the Pacific Telephone Company, has been acting in little theatre groups since he was first exposed to play acting in the second grade.

Mrs. Cupp was formerly a ballet teacher and is helpful in the choreography and costume department.



Churches hold Thanksgiving Day services

Thanksgiving will be observed in Campbell churches in various ways. The congregations of the First United Methodist Church and the Congregational Church of Campbell will hold a joint Thanksgiving worship service at 7:30 p.m. on Wed. Nov. 27 at the First Methodist Church sanctuary.

The Thanksgiving message, entitled "Space Age Thanksgiving" will be given by the Rev. Anthony Wayne Myers

Let us give THANKS for all our Many Blessings

REV. W. H. GOULD

This year the Rev. W.H. (Ben) Gould, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell since January 1961, presents the traditional Thanksgiving message for The Campbell Press.

Before coming to Campbell, the Rev. Gould, native of Pennsylvania and a graduate of Susquehanna University and Westminster Theological Seminary in that state, was superintendent of the Shasta District. Prior to that he was pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in Chico.

In Campbell, Rev. Gould has directed a large-scale building program for his church and has also been active in civic affairs.

He is a director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and is chairman of the steering committee for the third annual Congress for Community Progress that will be held next March. He was also chairman of the second Congress held last February.

He and Mrs. Gould, who is librarian at Camden High School, have three daughters and a son.

Thanksgiving 1968

BY W. H. (BEN) GOULD
FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Thanksgiving is as old as time, for men have always had something to be thankful for. From our vantage point, as we reflect on our history no other nation has as much to be thankful for as do those who reside in our land. Thanksgiving is distinctly an American holiday and a time of remembrance. Our heritage stands out boldly and commands attention. Let us not take the benefits that are ours too lightly.

Our forebears had little. The land had not produced abundantly. Disease had not missed them. Loneliness for loved ones bore heavily on their minds and yet they felt compelled to give thanks, not for their meager crops or any other gifts, but simply to give thanks to the giver of the gifts.

So in a day when we magnify the shortcomings and failings of the past. When there is stress and strain in our social structure. When dissent and revolution demand our attention and concern we are called on to give thanks. We know dissent and revolution are democratic when in pursuit of just goals, but are unacceptable when justice and truth are ignored. We must accept the verdict of "what is" and understand what the young girl impressed upon our President-elect when he read her sign, "BRING US TOGETHER". We must, however, not forget our heritage. Words from the poet, John Rippon, can challenge us if we will attend to them.

"Let us keep faith with the past
Let us strive to discover the values that last.
Looking down the long reach of the ages,
We watch man's earnest search for the Way
That leads to the highest fulfillment of God".

What are these values? What kind of an American do we want? We know that for the concerned citizen of our nation a life of suspended animation is not for us. Our history tells us that a life directed toward self and not service in building a better world is not American.

Thanksgiving is not only a time to offer gratitude for our heritage, but also a time to express our thanks for the opportunities of the present and the possibilities of the future. Consider a bit more of the poem:

"Let us now be bound to the past
And yet let us not forget it too soon;
We are helped to build an enduring future
Out of the tried and true of yesterday."

Back there in the past man began his quest for the best. Our divided nation suggests the search is still in progress. We have not arrived and we will not arrive in the immediate future. We must move toward the dream expressed when we say, "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands": All must ask the question found in Poor Richard's Almanac, "what good can I do?". How deep is my allegiance and appreciation of my country? Am I loyal?

Out of the broken dreams of the past must come new dreams. Dreams that will become the foundation for the kind of world that we want tomorrow. Dreams that will compel us to invest our lives and if necessary lay them down that they might be realized.

It is a great day in which to be alive. There never was a better one or a better land. Surely there will be even better days and from our enthusiasm each succeeding generation will serve so that every tomorrow will move mankind closer to the realization of the hope of those who made possible our land. Someday our lives will prove the truth of the words we say so often: "One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Let us this Thanksgiving make a personal commitment of self in the light of the words we use when we pledge allegiance to our Country. Let the intent of the Declaration of Independence and of our Constitution be the guiding principles of our lives. We must recognize the dignity of the individual knowing we all have a common heritage for back there in the dim past our forebears joined together to make possible the world of today. We ask seriously this Thanksgiving: "Is ours one nation under God? Indivisible? Is there liberty and justice for all?

We need but open our eyes, unstop our ears and we know our nation is not what it ought to be. How hard in a land of plenty for the hungry to give thanks. For the poorly clothed to rejoice. For the lonely and the friendless to feel justice prevails. Where loved ones serve our country in a foreign land for a reason unexplained. Nevertheless, in spite of the blight, injustice, sorrow, loneliness, and other misfortune we have much for which to be thankful. Let us count our blessings and thank God for America. A land where the dreams of the past will be the lot of tomorrow in the lives of these who dwell therein.

We must realize that ours is a proportionate responsibility. Each man must contribute through time, talent, and service what he has to give. This is a new day. It brings new opportunities to initiate programs that will compel men to dream again of a better world. We must not lose the dreams of the past nor resist the challenge of the present, but move toward the horizon where everyone who has invested his life in the quest of a wholesome dream will find fulfillment of this dream.

Thanksgiving, to the giver of the gifts, demands lives invested in service so that these words are not empty: "we are one again." When? We do not know, but each one of us determines his own contribution toward this dream. "Yes, dear God, bring us together, make us one again" that ours becomes one nation under Thee. Let us give thanks to the giver of the gifts and as you give thanks may the blessings of God be yours in such measure that you contribute to the realization of the dream of "one nation under God, with liberty and justice for all."

and often forget about incidents of the past that might have some bearing on the present situation.

That came to light recently when we were criticized by Ed Rider, of the West Valley Senior Action Center for not being concerned enough over the plight of the people now living in sub-standard housing in the area and who could turn out to be the "displaced" people of Campbell.

Fortunately the bound files of The Campbell Press were on hand which showed by chapter and verse that we were concerned and that we maintained consistently the community also had to be concerned about the situation.

Pictures of some of the sub-standard homes were published on the front page.

Professor Rider graciously acknowledged that he had been in error in his criticism of our attitude.

-0-

BUT EXPRESSING CONcern is NOT enough. Just because we are well aware of the problem does not mitigate it.

Families are living in one-room hovels in this community.

And they should not be, for in most instances those one-rooms are unfit for human beings.

Far be it from us to argue whether the so-called "ghettos" of East San Jose are any better.

That is academic.

The point is that the housing here is inadequate.

We don't have the answer.

Unfortunately, when people are cautioned that it will take more than a change of zone to alleviate the local sub-standard housing conditions, that is taken as outright opposition to the entire program.

And when it is pointed out that money, not a magic wand, will have to do the transforming of an area, that, too, is taken as indication of downright opposition and that the so-called "establishment" is against either senior citizens or poverty-stricken people, or minority groups.

Not necessarily in that order.

Anyway at times it is mighty handy to have those bound files of The Press around to prove that one is not as much of a villain as pictured in some quarters.

The trouble is the "proving" our point has to be done in our office.

Those bound files are just to darn big to lug around every place we go.

Of course we could microfilm 'em.

FOR YEARS WE HAVE been emphasizing what automobile agencies mean to cities from a sales tax point of view.

For instance, we use as a horrible example the comparison between Los Gatos and Campbell.

As you might or might not know, "auto row" of Los Gatos accounts for about 60% of that city's sales tax income per year.

Taxable car sales in Los Gatos generally run more than $6 million per quarter, out of a total sales of $11 million or so.

If you compare that with Campbell, you sort of get the "willies".

Campbell does about $10 million in taxable sales per quarter, WITHOUT a single automobile agency within our borders.

That really was brought home to roost at a recent City Council meeting when more than $39,000 was awarded for "rolling stock" for the city.

Courtesy Chevrolet of San Jose was awarded one bid for $8,506.54; Grant Bishop Chevrolet of San Jose got another for $6,540.22 and Normandin's Chrysler latched onto one for $5,165.45.

San Jose's city coffers were enriched by Campbell that one night to the tune of more than $200 by their little brother. Yipes!

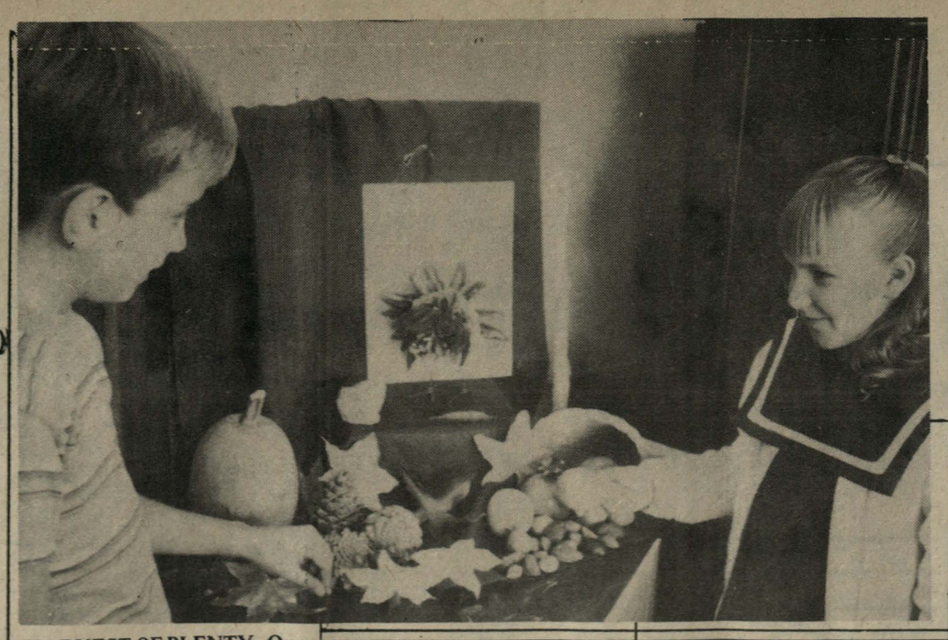
AND A HAPPY THANKSgiving to you, too.



HARVEST OF PLENTY--One of the lesson's learned by Gene Blackburn's third graders at San Tomas School was in their display of this horn of plenty. Shown completing the project are Jeff Wagner and Carrie Weldy.

sent by E.C.Staffani, assistant county engineer.

The drive for the pedestrian overpass was initiated by parents concerned over the traffic hazards of their children to and from school. It was endorsed by the City Council.

The city's share of the project, $25,000, was part of the bond issue that the voters approved in October, 1967.

San Jose is involved because residents of a small portion of that city would use the overpass.

The county is involved because the pedestrian problem was created by the county expressway.

The overpass would allow direct pedestrian access to Campbell's Rincon Park which would be beneficial to the city.

ommended for high density multiple zoning by the city's planning consultant under the 701 program. Both the City Council and the Planning Commission have endorsed the recommendation.

No action, however, has yet been taken to change the present zoning (M-1-S) light industrial. The proposed warehouses, therefore, meet the present zoning requirements. It was on that basis that the Planning Commission granted approval. Another warehouse has been approved for 200 Dillon.

At tonight's meeting also the City Council is expected to approve the zone change of the Gomes Ranch property to allow multiples on the major part and commercial on a small portion.

Councilmen are also expected to discuss the possibility of regulating the storage of boats and trailers in front yards. On file is a letter from residents in Coventry area asking for such regulations.

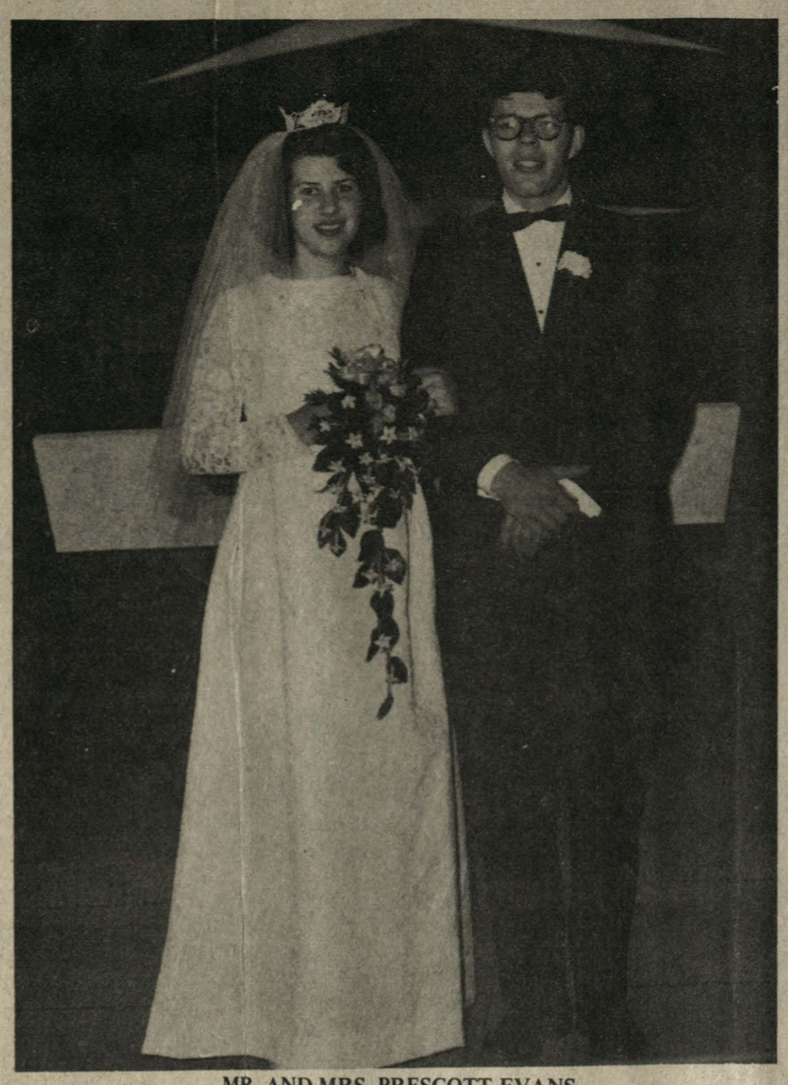
Wedding vows unite Christine Miller and Prescott Evans



MR. AND MRS. PRESCOTT EVANS

Wedding vows were exchanged recently between Christine Miller and Prescott Evans at the First Methodist Church of Sunnyvale. The Rev. Dodds B. Bunch conducted the afternoon services uniting the young couple.

Christine was radiant in an empire line wedding gown of lace over satin fashioned with a high neckline, made for her by her mother, Mrs. Clinton F. Miller, Sr. Pearls and sequins on the bodice were offset with a bow trim, and long lace sleeves with points at the wrist. She carried a pink rose and stephanotis bouquet with white ribbon streamers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton F. Miller, Sr. of 1320 Westmont Ave. who managed the Campbell branch post office in San Tomas for eight years. Christine is a graduate of Campbell High School, and the Campbell Beauty College and is presently employed at the Casa di Bellazza Beauty Salon.

Shocking pink was the color of the gown worn by Mrs. Richard Kramer, matron of honor, styled in satin brocade similar to the brides' material. Identical lovely gowns were worn by bridesmaids, Mrs. Lawrence Wincer, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Kellogg. They all carried pink carnation nosegays with pink streamers.

Passing out the candy almonds in baskets were two nieces of the bride, Joan Miller and Karen Winter, and they completed the pink and white picture in pink brocade.

Mrs. Miller chose a sapphire blue nylon crepe dress with three-quarter length sleeves and a rhinestone bodice for her daughter's wedding. A pink rose corsage completed her ensemble.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Evans of Sunnyvale. A graduate of Fremont High school in Sunnyvale, he attended Foothill Junior college before accepting employment at a local restaurant.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Evans wore an aqua knit dress and coat ensemble with beige accessories and complimented by a pink rose corsage.

Charles Dahl served as best man with Clinton Miller, Jr., Barton Evans, Gregory Evans and Cal Buright ushering. Mrs. Helen Terrel was at the organ with a special selection of "Because" played for the bride and groom.

Following the ceremonies the new Mr. and Mrs. Evans greeted their guests in the church hall at Sunnyvale and then cut the four tiered cake decorated with pink roses. The hall was decorated in pink and white wedding bells.

A special place of honor was reserved during the wedding for the grandparents of the bride and groom, who were present to greet the newlyweds.

From Watsonville were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hall, and Herman Sturmer traveled from Sacramento. All were grandparents of the bride while the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Walter F. Causin of Sunnyvale, was also present.

Following a wedding trip to Carmel Mr. and Mrs. Evans are now making their home in Campbell.

Grangers celebrate "Burning of Mortgage"

Members of the Orchard City Grange No. 333 celebrated recently on the occasion of long anticipated "Burning of the Mortgage".

Over 200 Grangers and visitors enjoyed a buffet dinner preceeding the program at which time the mortgage was burned.

Gathered around the table where the mortgage was burnt were past masters of the Grange including Sara Blue and Sadie Proctor; Emmett Ivey, state overseer; John Buck, state deputy; Fred Johnson, acting worthy master of the Orchard City Grange and Ted Bohn, lecturer. Other past masters present included Fred Bentley, Harry Barnes, Robert Scholz and Al McCoy. Also present were Bessie Merrill and Mae Walsh, wives of past masters.

The Orchard City Grange was chartered in 1903 and no charter members are now living. Robert Scholz, the oldest living member of long standing, has been a Granger for 62 years.

Mrs. Proctor and Mrs. Blue were masters when the present building was purchased and they both spoke on the history of the Grange and the different money making projects that have enabled the Grange to pay off their mortgage.

The program included selections by the Orchard City trio, Mildred Tippetts, Jack Tyson and Ole Tranberg and solos by Dorothy Tyson and Myrtle Geisel. Other choral numbers were presented by chorus members Mesdames Proctor, Louise Fairchild, Dorothy Keesling, Dyson and Goldie Glick. They were accompanied by Nila Jones.

Mrs. Gertrude Stanford was introduced as the oldest member of the Grange at the age of 94.

Mrs. Fairchild was in charge of the refreshments served following the program at which time a decorated cake was served.

He will have completed his course by Dec. 1, and both he and Toni will return to South Carolina where he will be stationed.

Both John and Toni are graduates of Campbell High school and were married this July in South Carolina. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gruenwald, Rincon Ave.

PTA NEWS

BLACKFORD HIGH

Blackford High School PTA president Henry L. Imsen welcomed the first four student representatives to his executive board meeting recently with the statement "Students are human dynamos and PTA work really 'turns on' when young people get involved. It's ten to one the student will come up with some better ideas than we can." His words came true when student representatives Bill Westbrook, Cheri Hankins, Cindy Smith and Phil Gallinger brought their enthusiasm to the PTA executive board meeting by work on the membership drive and a plan to earn a school Spirit Symbol.

At a recent meeting, the group heard Mrs. Phyllis Sandstrom from Pathway House, a self-help program for drug addicts, Bob O'Leary of Seven Step Foundation and localite Gordon McLain, executive director of "Youth for Christ".

Final speaker was Haskell Bowen, school district advisor on drugs.

MORELAND

"Narcotics and our Children" will be the theme of the talk John Morgan, Campbell police chief, will give before the Moreland School PTA at their Dec. 3 meeting.

Morgan will show a film on the use of narcotics, and have several other displays that should be of great interest to parents in view of the increased incidence of drug abuse by the school children, even to the elementary school level.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafetorium, with the flag salute led by Boy Scout Troop No. 339.

Miss Louise A. Johnston will deliver the inspirational.

Long-time rivals meet on local field at 11 a.m. for 34th time

Campbell High, with only a 14-14 tie in the opening game with Lincoln to mar an otherwise perfect season, puts its 8-0-1 record on the line Thanksgiving Day when the Los Gatos High School Wildcats come to town.

The traditional Turkey Day classic takes place on the Campbell High field. Kickoff is at 11 a.m.

Campbell, champions in 1967 of the West Valley League, cinched at least a tie for this year's bunting last Friday by walloping Blackford 46-0. A win over the Wildcats will give the Bucs their second straight title.

Los Gatos, although not in running for the league championship, has had a good season, losing only to Saratoga (31-8) and Branham (25-20) in league play. The Wildcats boast a 7-2 record going into the Thanksgiving Day fray.

Saratoga is in second place in the League with a 9-1 record. Only a 13-7 loss to Campbell mars the Falcon's season.

Saratoga meets Blackford on Thanksgiving Day and should the Falcons win and the Bucs lose, Campbell will share the title with Saratoga.

But Blackford expects to give a good account of itself on Thursday. Blackford has lost to Los Gatos (10-7) and Branham (27-13) during the season.

Branham which meets the newest school of the league, Prospect, on Thanksgiving Day, has been coming in fast during the last stages of the season.

Branham is heavily favored against Prospect on Thursday. Prospect defeated Westmont 29-14 and tied Camden 18-18 in league play. Prospect defeated Oak Grove 21-12 in its opening game of that school's first football season.

Branham lost to Saratoga (18-13) and Campbell (40-21) but turned back Westmont (13-0); Camden (48-7); Leigh (14-8); Los Gatos (25-20) and Blackford (27-13) and Del Mar (29-0) for an outstanding 6-2 season record.

Camden and Del Mar also tangle on Thanksgiving Day. The Camden Cougar-Del Mar Dons battle is the second oldest Turkey Day grid classic of the league.

Neither team has had a winning season but that does not make the rivalry any less for the Thanksgiving traditional.

In the Thanksgiving Day football encounter for league teams, Westmont meets Leigh.

Even without any bearing on the league championship, the Los Gatos-Campbell game would create enthusiasm among adults and students alike for the two teams have been meeting since 1934, long before any of the other schools in the league were even dreamed of.

Over the years the Wildcats have staged some tremendous battles. And many of the stars of the games have gone on to collegiate and pro football wars.

So as usual the Wildcat-Buc battles on Thursday will be the center of attention as it has been for 34 years.

Campbell Corners

We're STILL No. 1 describes the chance Campbell has for the WVAL Football Championship for the second year in a row. With one more game to go, Campbell has an all win no loss league record since 1967.

The Bucs banked the Blackford Braves last Friday with a score of 46-0.

The whole team played well and at the end of the game the players carried coach Mike Jones off the field. The spirit at the game was good and many people traveled the distance to support the team.

The Frosh-Soph team won their game against Blackford last Thursday, with a score of 32-7. The team played a good game. Jerry Fournier made Frosh-Soph Player of the Week. Jerry plays defense and has done a great job in making tackles and keeping the other team from scoring.

The Varsity Players of the Week are Tim McGuire, Bob Marotti, and Mike Beeson. All three have done a great job in previous games.

Last Friday a "Soul" rally was held in the Boys Gym. New cheers were introduced that would be used at the game that afternoon. The Frosh - Soph coach, Coach Brooks, was given a cake. All players, Varsity and Frosh-Soph, were given cupcakes.

Last Thursday, a Senior Cabinet meeting took place in room 34. It was announced that at the election on whether to have a Senior Ball or Dinner Dance, the Ball was the overwhelming choice. Also discussed was the Senior announcement cards. Seniors will take a vote on one of two chosen type cards.

The profits of the Senior play came to approximately $1,000. The top ticket salesman were Pam Miller, Kathy Warner and Greg Hutzell. First place will be given $10, second place $7 and third place $5. Seniors selling 20 or more tickets will get a free strip of tickets on Sneak Day.

Last Friday an election was held for the Homecoming Queen. The candidates are Gayle Davis, Shirley Harris, Barbara Hudec, Pat Labrador, Debbie Lewis, Jan Ludorff, Barbara Ornellas, Mary Ann Scrivano and Amee VanDyne. The queen and her court will be announced next week.

Wednesday a rally will be held in the Boys Gym. At the rally the Queen and her court will be announced. Also the annual turkey trot will take place.

The last football game of the 1968 football season will be held on Thanksgiving Day against Los Gatos at Campbell. The game starts at 11 a.m. The gates open at 10:15 a.m.

Del Mar Dateline

By Janice Hallyburton and Molly Ford

Queen Jan Strong will reign over the Homecoming Game this year on the Camden football field for the Thanksgiving Day game. Her Princesses are Carol Becker and Karen Freitas both are seniors at Del Mar. Floats will be chauffeur driven down the bowl carrying the Royal Court. Then they will be escorted to the middle of the field for the coronation.

Following tradition, the Del Mar cheerleaders, song girls and Lettergirls, being from the visiting team, will take the home team spirit commission out to breakfast before the big game.

A Homecoming Rally is also being planned for Wednesday, Nov. 27, and will be highlighted by competition between the classes. Instead of our regular girl cheerleaders, boys from each class will be leading cheers.

Christmas Queen Princesses were chosen this week by Student Council. The Princesses are Pat Conn, Karen Crawford, Molly Ford, Chris Lundquist and Mickie Vitale. Out of these five girls one of them will be chosen as Christmas Queen to reign over the annual Christmas Ball. The Ball, Firelight and Frost, will be held Dec. 13.

The announcement was made by coordinator Clair Churchman of Los Gatos who founded the organization five years ago.

Featuring films of actual work and interviews with businessmen who employ "seniors", the program will be moderated by Jules Eshner, current president of the group.

Westmont Wails

By Keith Hohlfedlt

The candidates for football queen this year at Westmont are Marigrace Convertino, Anita Yegge, Kathy Tomlin, Sharon Hanson, Maureen Regala and Carlene Perry. All of them are members of the Song girls or cheerleaders.

The Warriors will play the Leigh Longhorns in their stadium on the Thanksgiving Day game, the last game of the football season.

The great paper drive ended last weekend and it has not yet been determined who is the winner, but it is a close race between the juniors and the seniors.

Westmont's homecoming dance will be held this Wednesday and will feature the rock group "Coffee".

As in most other schools in the district, Westmont is forming and training a soccer team which most of the students hope will be better than the football team. The team does not yet have a coach, but hopes to get one soon. At present there are about 15 students who have signed up for the team. Lee MacFarland is presently running the team.

Four out of five paper bins were filled by Camden G.A.A. during the Nov. 16 and 17 paper drive in the student parking lot.

The girls bundled, weighed and stacked papers in three hour shifts. Aside from 10% going to Student Body funds, all the profit will go toward G.A.A. camp in the spring.

Alayne Bolster, Jeanie Davis and Janine Warning, chairman, are all very pleased with the results.

Funds still needed for Rincon Park

The Rincon Park community ball park development committee is presently giving away one RCA Cassette recorder each month, beginning Jan 1, according to Chuck Cannady, project chairman.

The group of dedicated citizens who are spending all their spare time working on the park have sparked the new fund raising project and hope that some of the needed material to make the park a reality will be donated.

Already in place are the 2,000 feet of two inch water pipe and sprinkler heads and valves and the 300 yards of clean loam. The group is presently working on the storage, rest rooms, meeting room and kitchen and plan for seating over 400 people.

Needed for the project still are electrical, plumbing, building, fencing, water pipes, labor, use of equipment and money.

Tickets for the recorders, which will be given away once a month, may be obtained from many business houses, the city hall, and all of the Campbell-Moreland Pony League. Donations of time and material or further information may be had by calling Cannady at 374-0986.

Robertson, formerly with the Wall Street Journal, is a graduate of Iowa State University, and worked on several newspapers before serving in both World War II and the Korean War.

Adult Ed offers 48 computer courses at night

Hard to believe, but by 1970, authorities believe computers will constitute one of the world leading industrial occupations.

Computer affiliated activities, such as design, manufacture, programming, operation, and servicing are constantly increasing.

Keeping pace with this increase, Metropolitan Adult Education, with offices at 124 W. Latimer, are now offering 48 different class sections each year in the data processing field.

"We have classes ranging from beginning keypunch to systems analysis for mid-management personnel", announces Bruce Moritz, who heads the adult ed program.

"Most of our classes are designed to help the person with no previous training understand the whats and whys of computers," he adds.

Scattered throughout the four high school districts which MAEP serves (Santa Clara, Campbell, San Jose and Eastside) are classes in data processing, introduction to computers, computer procedures and computer programming.

Letters to the Editor

APPRECIATION

Dear George:

The Gomes family was surprised and deeply touched by your editorial suggesting that the new mini-park be named after Joseph V. Gomes.

We recognize the fact that parks are normally named after streets, but we are honored that you chose to recognize him because of the many years he spent on the Campbell High School Board of Trustees and his years on the first City Council. He was a man truly dedicated to making Campbell a better community in which to live, and we appreciate your recognition of him.

Sincerely,
The Gomes Family

THANK YOU NOTE

Dear George:

Just wanted to say THANKS for the job you played in helping me receive my environmental award from KRON-TV. Awards are never won by an individual alone but rather by a team, and you and your staff have been great members of that team.

Your encouragement and support of our beautification projects which you so aptly covered in your paper this year have made this award possible. Many, many thanks.

Sincerely,
Jeanette Watson

Girl Scouts News from

NEIGHBORHOOD 15
By Nan Warren

Neighborhood 15 held an Investiture and re-dedication ceremony for the adult leaders last Wednesday evening. Twelve volunteer leaders were present to receive membership pins. Several women, already active in Scouting, received five year pins. Mrs. Charles Scanland and Mrs. George Allan were given ten year pins.

The outstanding presentation of the evening was presented to Mrs. Roxie Clapes who has been active in the Girl Scout movement for 20 years. Our heartiest congratulations to all these women. They are sheer proof–there's fun in Scouting for adults, too.

RAINED OUT!

The best layed plans...oft times go kaputt!

Junior Scout Troops 237 and 702 of Marshall Lane School were "rained out" of their camping trip to Renwickiup. With a little preplanning on the part of their leaders, the girls split into different interest groups and worked on badges in the dry comfort of their leader's homes. Badges worked on by the two troops were: songster, cook and hospitality.

Alternate plans for Cadette Troop 55, when they were done out of their trip to Cowell State Park, were almost as much fun as camping at the park. Twenty-four girls and their leaders, food and bed rolls in hand, spent the night at the Clay residence.

Quito Jr.'s, Troop 1030, got in just under the wire. Their Court of Honor overnight at Renwickiup was completed and they were homeward bound as the rain drops began to fall.

No chance of being washed away from the Capri Jr.'s Troop 371. Their recent overnight was held indoors in three different homes to acquaint the new Scouts with planning procedures prior to camping out of doors this spring.

BIKE HIKE

Junior Scouts of Troop 211 took a "bicycle trek" to Vasona Park. The girls cooked a portion of their meal out of doors, practiced knot tying and...just had a great time! The days event was concluded with a Scouts Own.

The Troop also recently took a tour of the Campbell City Offices. They were given a full and extensive tour of our Police Department.

The San Tomas Jr.'s Troop 829, have taken on a very worthwhile service project. The San Tomas School PTA is having the Jack Fischer Scholarship Fund pancake breakfast, Nov. 24, and the troop members have been aiding in the ticket sales. The biggest task is yet to come. You guessed – clean-up detail! We think the girls taking part in this event is great and certainly for a wonderful cause.

NEIGHBORHOOD 17

Junior Girl Scouts in Troop 669 of Dover School were happy to use some of their proceeds from last years cookie sales to pay for the costs in making and mailing a special book to the Pediatric Ward at Queen Mary's Hospital in London, England.

Each page in this book, "The Story of Pocahontas and John Smith", was individually printed and illustrated by one of the girls in the troop.

Troop members who made the book include Cindy Blackman, Karen Clough, Karen Cole, Pat Fine, Janet Fischer, Janet Germer, Nancy Gibert, Janet Haller, Susan Heckman, Cheryl Johnson and Alexis Lansing.

Barbara Lanzino, Eileen Murphy, Kathy Murphy, Laurie Neufeld, April Peck, Vikki Lynn Roos, Cheryl Russell, Sandra Russell, Lindsey Sorci, Rosemary Teres, Cindy Thomas, Debbie Totaro, Linda Totaro, Kathy Util, Raynell Wiens, Valerie Willard and Deborah Rynhard.

Troop leaders, Mrs. F.H. Clough and Mrs. H.J. Totaro, stated that the completion of this book fulfilled one of the requirements of the Folklore Badge.

The Queen Mry Hospital was chosen to be the recipient as one of the scouts sister was a burn patient there, and during her convalescence, became acquainted with some of the children who were undergoing treatment for burns.

Eastfield grads need foster homes

TELCO TEAM EFFORT--Eastfield Childrens Center director Karl Marshall (left) accepts a $490 check from Pacific Telephone accountant Jack Daulton, chairman of the Company's Campbell community relations team. Looking on are team members Donna Crocker and Bob Muncrief. The Pacific Telephone group raised the money through a raffle and also got San Jose Steel Company to donate the fence in the background, which the Campbell Jaycees built. Eastfield aids children with emotional disturbances.

There is a growing concern of caseworkers at Eastfield, a United Fund agency for emotionally disturbed children, because of a lack of foster homes for children in their care, according to Karl Marshall, director.

Eastfield Children's Center, formerly known as the Home of Benevolence, was once an orphanage. Many distinguished citizens are graduates of the home after having spent their childhood in its custody as orphans.

In recent years, however, the home has turned to the aid of youngsters from broken or disturbed homes, all of them children with acute emotional problems.

The home is small. Its population usually never numbers more than 18. They live in residential cottages and receive intensive care and supervision.

Right now, Marshall emphasized, several have resolved their emotional difficulties enough so that they are ready to become members of a family. However, they are unable to return to their own parents for various reasons and foster homes are needed for them.

He went on to state that because these children are between 7 and 11, the foster parents must be willing to assume such care for long periods, probably until these youngsters are 18. They will need continued supervision to maintain the progress they have made.

Eastfield Children's Center is licensed by the State of California to study and supervise foster homes and pays the same rate as paid by the County Welfare and Juvenile Probation Departments.

Anyone who is interested in exploring further the possibility of becoming foster parents for any of these children should call the Center, 379-3790. Families with or without children can be considered.

ONE WILL BE QUEEN--One shown above will be chosen to reign as queen of the Prospect high school Thanksgiving Day football game between Prospect and Branham high school. Highlight of the game will be the crowning of the 1968 Thanksgiving Day queen. The three finalists were chosen from seven girls, with the girl receiving the most votes to be crowned queen and the two runners up as princesses.

Since the school has no alumni, as this is its first year as a school, the game at Branham will not actually be a homecoming game, but will be a "Thanksgiving Day" game. This will be the first year for Branham to play in the traditional Campbell High School District intra-school Thanksgiving Day games. Ballots for the Queen election were counted by the student council.

Westmont

FOOTBALL QUEEN CANDIDATES--Westmont queen candidates are shown above. One will be chosen queen and two as princesses to reign over the Thanksgiving Day festivities. L. to r. are Anita Yegge, Cathy Tomlin, Carlene Perry, Marigrace Convertino, Sharon Hanson and Maureen Regala. Westmont will play Leigh at Leigh. The queen will be presented with a necklace commemorating the occasion and a dozen red roses. All six young ladies will also be presented with corsages.

Schools select their loveliest

Half-time entertainment during the "Turkey Day" football games at district high schools in addition to the marching bands and the drill teams will include the crowning of "Homecoming Queens".

The girls selected are all seniors and have taken an active part in extra-curricular activities at their respective high schools. In some cases the announcement of the "Queen" will be a surprise to the student body, for the results of the elections will not be made known until the game.

Each of the girls, in addition to their beauty, are also good students. The top runners-up will be in the Queen's entourage as Princesses.

Hopefully the sun will shine and if past crowds are any indication, there will be standing room only at all eight high schools in the district.

All games begin at 11 a.m.

Campbell

Campbell High School students had a hard time Monday choosing their royal court for their Thanksgiving Homecoming game. Nine lovely young ladies were voted on, with only one to be chosen Queen and four to serve as princesses. The Queen will be crowned at the football rally held on Wednesday afternoon and be presented at half time during the traditional Thanksgiving game between Los Gatos and Campbell at Campbell.

TOYS FOR TOTS BOWL--On Saturday, Nov. 30, at 5:30 p.m. in the Buck Shaw Stadium at Santa Clara University, the San Jose Stingers tangle with the King Conference Champions from Venice, Calif. in the first game of a double header. (121-lb. midget class)

At 8 p.m. the San Jose Hornets meet the King Conference Champions from Venice (140-lb jr. bantam class).

The San Jose Hornet's Gridiron Club in cooperation with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve are staging these championship national youth football games in the 7th annual Toys for Tots Bowl. Admission is $1.50 and children are admitted free with one good used toy. The toys are distributed by the Marine reserves to underpriviledged children at Christmas time.
